GEO. BECK GRADUATES AND GOES TO FLYING SCHOOL

Word was received in Ogden yesterday from George Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Beck, 1506 Twenty-fourth street, that he had graduated from the U. S. School of Military Aeronautics at Berkeley. At this school the aspiring aviators learn all about flying, instruments, weather, aerial observation, fighting, photography, etc.; in fact, all the hows and whys of aviation. Mr. Beck is a graduate of the Ogden high school and has had two years of hard study at the University of Utah. Because of his military training at the former institution, he was made corporal after he had been at the Berkeley school only two weeks. He now leaves for the flying school at San Diego where he will put his knowledge into actual practice before going "over there." The course at San Diego can be completed in six weeks, after which time Mr. Beck will be a regular commissioned aviator with the title of first lieutenant.

menting at 7:30 p. m. at Browning Brothers' store.

Bootlegging—George Wilson, a stranger, was arrested on lower Twenty-fifth street, last night by Sergeant O. H. Mohlman and Detective Grant Syphers, and lodged in jail. He will be arraigned Tuesday morning in municipal court on the charge of bootlegging. Wilson is said to be a expert in the bootlegging line and had part in the disposing of several trunk loads of contraband liquors before the officers took him into custody. He is said to have arrived here recently from Kansas.

Passenger Agent—C. W. Poll, traveling passenger agent for the Burlington route, was in Ogden for several hours this morning. Mr. Poll has headquarters in Salt Lake City.

TWO MEN SENT TO AVIATION SERVICE

John B. Curley, coppersmith, and James Mills, machinist, left Ogden Friday for the aviation section of the navy, and are now on their way to the ground school at San Diego, Cal., where they will receive a four months' course in the handling and upkeep of the naval aircraft, and will then be sent to the aviation grounds at Pensacola, Fla.

At the present time, the Ogden office is limited to the enlistment of but two men a week, and these men for aviation duty only, and must be especially qualified as machinist, coppersmith, carpenters, or gas engine repairman.

There is still an immediate need of one machinist or carpenter to fill the quota for the week beginning February.

Persons who desire to enlist in the navy will be given the necessary physical examination, and their names put on file with those who are now waiting information in regard to the bill now pending for an additional 80,000 more men for naval service.

Registered men may enlist in the navy providing they can obtain an affidavit from the registration board to the effect that they are not needed to fill the current quota.

The age limits for enlistment in the navy are between 18 and 35 years.

Men between the ages of 35 and 53 may be enrolled in the aviation reserves, providing they pass the necessary examination and are qualified in some manual trade. These men will not be immediately assigned to duty, but will probably be assigned within a week or ten days after enrollment.

JUDGE GEO. S. BARKER SUDDENLY ADJOURNS COURT AS A FORM OF REPRIMAND FOR TARDY

"Now is as good a time to begin as any other. An unpleasant duty becomes more onerous the longer it is delayed. Punctuality is one of the chief virtues. Tardiness always has been held in disrepute—that is true from childhood to old age."

Judge George S. Barker, in semi-serious manner handed out the above series of axiomatic platitudes this morning at the municipal court room and applied them to the court attaches and city officials. He also peremptorily adjourned court, without disposing of any of the docketed cases because the city's legal department had failed to report to prosecute the cases. All cases docketed for this morning will be disposed of Tuesday morning, provided the city attorney or his assistant answers, ready to roll call.

"It is important that these duties receive prompt attention," continued the court. "One man may delay two, two men may delay an hour. That means twenty hours. There is one instance, this morning, already brought to my attention, that an arresting officer who went to bed at 5 o'clock got up at 9 o'clock and was at the station to appear in a case. Undoubtedly there are other officers who are entitled to return to their homes for sleep or to their beds. Individually I had a large volume of work on my hands and an hour's delay interferes with me. These duties are duties which the city expects us to perform promptly and seriously and we should make other engagements subject to proper attendance upon this court."

The action of the court this morning is a climax to a long series of delays. Recently because the habit of appearing late was developing into a nuisance, there was an agreement entered into to effect a more prompt attendance. Police Chief Browning, to indicate his spirit in the matter, went so far as to post an instruction requiring officers, who had complaints before the municipal court, to be at the station not later than 9:30 a. m. to be ready for court when it convened an hour later. The officers, however, were not the guilty parties.

It is believed Judge Barker's arbitrary adjournment of court this morning will be sufficient reprimand to eliminate future tardiness. If it doesn't he may take a more drastic course.

SUIT CASE IS TURNED UPSIDE DOWN AND EXAMINED

James Bird, an employee of the Standard, on arriving from Evanston last Saturday, was halted by a deputy sheriff and had his suitcase searched for contraband.

"I resisted the invasion of my rights," said Mr. Bird, "and informed the officer that if he went through my grip, he would do so against my most strenuous protest. My suitcase was turned upside down and pictures I value as priceless were carelessly handled."

"I have written to Commissioner White at Portland, who is a close friend of mine and a lawyer of ability, and if I receive the answer I expect, there will be an end to this indiscriminate assault on personal rights. I am neither a bootlegger, a horse thief nor highwayman, and should be free from personal affronts, if the officers have no warrant for my apprehension or arrest."

CHIEF BROWNING IN AN ADDRESS ON CAUSE OF WAR

Police Chief Thomas E. Browning made the principal address at the Third ward meeting last night. He talked for about 45 minutes, reviewing the causes leading up to the present war.

Police Chief Browning went back to the fifteenth century and reviewed the causes of every reformation and the effects upon the political destinies of the various races and upon civilization.

He took an optimistic view of the present war and insisted that signs of the end are in sight. He stated, however, that over-confidence should not interfere with preparation and it will require much hard work to finally convince the Kaiser that he must yield. There was a large attendance and the address was given the closest attention. At the conclusion of the service, Chief Browning was warmly complimented.

Mrs. Eudey was assisted by her daughter, Miss Nettie Hunter, and niece, Miss Tina Nelson.

DOG CAPTURED AND WILL BE KILLED

John H. Hughes, city dog impounder, captured the big black collie late Saturday afternoon, which, during the morning, attacked George C. Chandler, 2774 Adams avenue, and tore great slit sin his hand. The dog will be held in the pound for a few days and probably killed.

According to George Shorten, city sanitary commissioner, the dog is not affected with rabies, and no serious developments are expected to result from Mr. Chandler's injuries. The dog, however, is of a vicious nature, Mr. Shorten stated, and should be killed as quickly as the pound limit expires. The dog is a stray.

The incident occurred about 7 o'clock, Saturday morning, while Chandler was walking west on Twenty-seventh street. As Chandler approached the dog, giving him a portion of the sidewalk, the animal made a sudden leap and fastened its teeth in the man's left hand. In trying him loose, long gashes were torn in Chandler's hand.

Immediately after being notified of the attack, Mr. Shorten sent four men from his department and advised the police officer to search for the dog. The dog was discovered late in the afternoon by Mr. Hughes and impounded.

DECIDED IN FAVOR OF STANDARD

The libel suit of Fred W. Chambers against The Ogden Standard, was decided today by Judge A. W. Awe of the district court, in favor of the Standard, exonerating the paper from the charges brought by the former state fish and game commissioner. This was a parallel suit to that of William J. Lynch, former secretary of the state land commission, which was passed on by the state supreme court in favor of The Standard. Mr. Chambers brought suit for $50,000 for alleged defamation of character.

The judgment in the Chambers case was held in abeyance by Judge Awe pending action by the state supreme court in the Lynch suit.
